

Muunyni Church Project Update Kenya

This project is being postponed until later in 2010. This will give the church time to pour the slab and build the walls. Look for an update as the local believers make progress on construction of their church.